DCI:

President for the Center for the Study of the Presidency R. Gordon Hoxie has invited you to speak at the Harry J. Sievers lecture series at the Fordham University Lincoln Center Campus sometime in April. As you remember, you accepted this invitation in early December. Mr. Hoxie is most interested that you participate in the Sievers lecture series, and would appreciate hearing from you a date when you would be available. Do you have a preferred April date?

You have also been invited to attend the Center's Seventeenth Annual Student Symposium "After Geneva: Congress, the Presidency, and National Security Policy" on 14-16 March at the Hyatt Regency Hotel on Capitol Hill. The President has been invited to deliver the keynote address. (See attached invitation.)

The Student Symposium invitation, while they would appreciate your attendance, is more perfunctory. If you are interested in attending the symposium, please indicate below.

Dear Center Member:

This is a special invitation for you to participate in a most significant Center conference, the Center's Seventeenth Annual Student Symposium. This will have as its theme, AFTER GENEVA: CONGRESS, THE PRESIDENCY, AND NATIONAL SECURITY POLICY. It will convene at the Hyatt Regency Hotel on Capitol Hill in Washington, D.C. the weekend of March 14-16, 1986. The President, just returned from the Geneva Summit, has been invited to deliver the keynote address following the opening reception and dinner on Friday March 14, 1986, commencing at 6:30 p.m.

While this meeting is termed a Student Symposium, it is in keeping with President Eisenhower's suggestion that programs be for "students old and young," that is all of us who are Center members. On Saturday morning, March 15th at 9:00 a.m. the principal military adviser to the President, the new Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Admiral William J. Crowe, Jr., has been invited to address the conference. This will be followed at 10:30 a.m. with ten discussion groups with distinguished discussants on topics ranging from arms control to NATO and other alliances, to terrorism.

The Saturday luncheon session will feature a Center member, the Attorney General, Edwin Meese III. Distinguished guests will include Chief Justice Warren Burger. This will be followed by a free period.

Following the Saturday evening reception and dinner, two of the most outstanding Congressional leaders on national security policy, Senator Sam Nunn (D) Georgia and Representative Lee Hamilton (D) Indiana, have been invited to address the conference. Senator Nunn is widely regarded as a foremost authority on arms policies and Representative Hamilton is Chairman of the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence.

On Sunday morning at 9:00 a.m. Kenneth Adelman, Director, U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, has been invited to deliver a major policy address. This will be followed by a concluding panel on The Media and National Security Policy. Panelists will include Ann Compton, ABC Congressional Correspondent; David Gergen, Managing Editor, U.S. News & World Report; Andrea Mitchell, NBC White House Correspondent; and Judy Woodruff, Center member featured in the MacNeil-Lehrer Report.

As indicated in the enclosed registration form there is also an optional activity program. Buses will depart the Hyatt Regency Friday morning, October 14th, for a special White House tour. This will be followed by a special State Department briefing. Center member John C. Whitehead, the new Deputy Secretary of State, has been invited to deliver the briefing. (Thursday evening hotel accommodations can be secured for those participating in this Friday morning program by so indicating on the registration form.)

In view of the great interest in this program, we recommend early return of the registration form.

May we take this opportunity to wish you and your family warmest season's greetings. Under separate cover we have sent you a card and reply envelope for a Christmas or Chanukah gift that will give pleasure all year long: Center membership, including the award winning Presidential Studies Quarterly.

Hope, very much, to see you at the Washington Symposium.

Cordially yours,

R. Gordon Hoxie

Dear Gordon,

I hate to do this but I have to ask you to excuse me from participation in the Center's program in Grand Rapids in November. Thank goodness it's not too late to bow out. I had not realized that there would be heavy foreign attendance but I received this note from our Public Affairs Director. I attach a copy so you will understand and ask you to destroy it when you have read it.

Best regards.

Yours,

William J. Casey

Hon. William J. Casey
Director of the Central Intelligence Agency

Dear Bill:

STAT
Thank you for your call today accepting the Center's invitation to participate in the Center's 16th Annual Leadership Conference. As I advised [redacted] this is convening at the Amway Grand Plaza Hotel in Grand Rapids, Michigan the weekend of November 1-3, 1985, with President Ford as the primary host.

The theme "Command Decision And The Presidency" is taken from the volume by that name. You may recall President Ford had written the Foreword for it and you, yourself wrote a generous commentary for the book jacket.

Bill, we hope you will be with us as much as your busy schedule permits, beginning with the Friday evening, November 1st reception and dinner commencing at 6:30 p.m. We would like you to join President Ford on the dais that evening. Should your schedule permit we would like to have you address the conference the following evening, Saturday, November 2nd, again following a reception and dinner commencing at 6:30 p.m.

In the interim, kindly send us your biographical sketch and photograph, the latter preferably 8x10. For your support for the Center and for the conference we are most grateful, believe me. Best wishes to you and to your family.

Sincerely yours,

R. Gordon Hoxie
